RE: COLORADO 2018 LIKELY VOTER SURVEY SUMMARY

This memo is a summary of a telephone survey of 500 likely 2018 general election voters in Colorado. The interviews were conducted from October 8th to 10th, 2018. The overall results have a margin of error of +/- 4.38% at the 95 percent confidence interval. The survey data were slightly weighted to reflect past voter turnout demographics in Colorado for a non-Presidential election.

Key Findings:

- There is clear evidence that Democrat voters are more energized and interested in the November elections than Republican voters. Using a scale of 1 to 10, with 10 meaning the respondent was very interested in the election, 59% of Democrat respondents are a "10" compared to 47% of Republicans.
- Among all respondents, 46% of likely voters prefer an outcome from the election where Democrats control Congress and 40% prefer a Congress controlled by Republicans. Among unaffiliated voters, 36% prefer a Congress controlled by Democrats, 23% prefer a Congress controlled by Republicans, and 41% are undecided.
- Democrat Congressman Jared Polis leads Republican State Treasurer Walker Stapleton by 7 points, 47% to 40% respectively, Libertarian Scott Helker has 4% support, and 9% are undecided. This ballot test is exactly the same as the Healthier Colorado survey fielded in mid-September.
- The survey included ballot test questions measuring support and opposition for the two transportation funding proposals. Voters are more likely to support and approve Proposition 109, (52% approve/23% reject/25% undecided) than Proposition 110 (35% approve/34% oppose/31% undecided). The primary difference between the two proposals is Proposition 109 would not raise taxes and Proposition 110 would.
- Colorado voters are evenly split in their opinion of Brett Kavanaugh's confirmation to the Supreme Court with 43% approving his confirmation and 43% disapproving.

Measuring 2018 Colorado Voter Intensity and Turnout

Is a Democratic “blue wave” in the making here in Colorado? Is the confirmation of Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court more likely to energize Democrats or Republicans to vote? This survey attempted to answer those questions by using a scale of 1 to 10, with 10 meaning the respondent is very interested in the November election, and 1 meaning they were not interested at all. Among all respondents, 47% of voters responded with a 10. The results by party registration find 59% of Democrat voters being a 10, compared to 47% of Republicans and 34% of unaffiliated voters. When adding the percentage of voters that responded with a 10 or 9, the survey finds Democrat voters being more interested in the November election than Republicans by an 8-point margin, 75% to 67% respectively.

Among voters that approve of the confirmation of Brett Kavanaugh, the combined 10 or 9 percentage is 65%, and among voters that disapprove of his confirmation the combined percentage is 73%. The bottom line is voter turnout will determine if Colorado sees a “mixed bag” of candidate and ballot initiative results or a Democrat rout. We look forward to closely tracking the ballot return data in a couple of weeks to see if Democrat voters are in fact able to exceed their turnout percentage and numbers of 2014. The following shows responses to our ballot intensity question by major voter subgroups.

Congressional and Legislative Partisan Control Questions

The survey included two Congressional and legislative partisan control questions. Currently, voter opinion on who should have control of Congress has Democrats holding a 6-point lead over Republican control, 46% to 40% respectively. Among male voters the Republican control leads Democrat control, 44% to 41%. Among female voters, the Democrat control has a 13-point lead over Republican control, 50% to 37%. Among the all-important unaffiliated voters, Democrat control leads by 13 points, 36% to 23%.

Among all suburban voters, which constitute 41% of the survey sample, the preferred Congressional Democrat control also leads by 13 points, 51% to 38%. Among suburban men, preferred Democrat control leads 47% to 45%, and among suburban women the Democrat control leads by a whopping 25 points. Not surprisingly, the results for control of the state legislature are similar to the Congressional control question, with preferred Democrat control leading by 7 points, 46% to 39% respectively.

Colorado Governor Ballot Test

The survey finds Democrat Congressman Jared Polis leading Republican State Treasurer Walker Stapleton by 7 points, 47% to 40% respectively. This ballot test is very similar to a survey we fielded on behalf of Healthier Colorado in September, which showed Jared Polis with 47% support and Walker Stapleton with 40% support. To observers of Colorado politics, the following table showing results by voter subgroup should not be that surprising. Jared Polis leads Walker Stapleton by 13 points among women, but the race among men is tied.

Among seniors aged 65 and older, Walker Stapleton leads Jared Polis by 7 points. However, the most important subgroup of voters that decide Colorado’s elections are unaffiliated voters. Among those voters, Jared Polis has a 26 point lead over Walker Stapleton, 46% to 20% respectively and 26% are undecided. It remains to be seen if Walker Stapleton can improve his support among those voters in the remaining three weeks before Election Day.

Governor Candidate Image Ratings

The survey finds Democrat Congressman Jared Polis and Republican State Treasurer Walker Stapleton with very similar image ratings, both being net-positive. Among all respondents, 45% have a favorable opinion of Jared Polis, 36% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 14% have heard of him but do not have an opinion and 5% have never heard of him. His image rating is strongest among women, voters 44 and younger, unaffiliated and suburban voters. Among all respondents, 42% have a favorable opinion of Walker Stapleton, 36% have an unfavorable opinion of him, 14% have heard of him but do not have an opinion and 8% have never heard of him.

Image Ratings of the Democratic and Republican Political Parties

The survey included image rating questions for the Democrat and Republican parties. The image rating of the Democrat Party was slightly better than the Republican Party. Among all respondents, 48% have a favorable opinion of the Democratic Party and 42% have an unfavorable opinion of it. In contrast, 46% of respondents have a favorable opinion of the Republican Party and 45% and unfavorable opinion of it. What do the party image rating questions mean for the outcome of the election in Colorado? We suggest the Republican Party's brand and image is not as terrible as some political observers would believe. Therefore, the likelihood of a "mixed-bag" election where neither political party dominates is more possible than the conventional wisdom would think. That remains to be seen.

Voter Opinion of Transportation Propositions 109 and 110

Colorado voters have an opportunity this November to approve or reject two propositions related to transportation funding. While there are many differences in the details of the two propositions, one primary difference is one raises taxes and the other does not. To measure voter support and opposition for each proposition properly respondents were read the full ballot language of each proposal. The order of the proposition questions were rotated so that 50% heard Proposition 109 first and the other 50% heard Proposition 110 first. Not surprisingly, voter support for Proposition 109, which does not raise taxes was much stronger than Proposition 110 which does raise taxes, 52% to 35% respectively.

However, with 25% of voters being undecided on Proposition 109 and 31% undecided on Proposition 110, it is premature to say either one will be approved or rejected by voters. Yet, this survey indicates that Proposition 109 is more likely to pass than Proposition 110, assuming the Yes on 109 campaign has sufficient resources.

Voter Opinion of Brett Kavanaugh Confirmation to Supreme Court

There is probably no better example of the bitter differences between Democratic and Republican voters in Colorado than their opinion of Brett Kavanaugh’s confirmation to the Supreme Court. Among all respondents, 43% approve of his confirmation and 43% disapprove. Among Democratic voters, 83% disapprove of his confirmation and among Republican voters 83% approve. Among the all-important unaffiliated voters, a slight plurality of 37% disapprove of Brett Kavanaugh’s confirmation and 31% approve. Showing their indifference to politics, 32% of unaffiliated voters have no opinion of Brett Kavanaugh’s confirmation.

Thoughts Regarding Our Sample Weighting Decisions

Any survey that attempts to measure the opinion of likely voters accurately must correctly forecast the party and age demographics of the total votes cast. In the Colorado 2014 general election, 37% of the votes cast were by Republicans, 32% by Democrats and 29% by unaffiliated voters. The other 2% of turnout was a mix of Libertarians and minor parties.

For this survey, the sample is weighted to 35% Republican, 33% Democrat and 32% unaffiliated.

We believe the party weights are appropriate considering the 2-point decline (39% to 37%) in the Republican percentage of total turnout from 2010 to 2014. We also are taking into account the surge in unaffiliated voter registration, and the 2-point increase in the percentage of the total vote (27% to 29%) from 2010 to 2014. As always, we will be closely watching the demographics of ballots that are returned over the next few weeks. That data will have a significant influence on our best efforts to properly forecast the outcome of the candidate and ballot initiatives this election cycle.

T12. There are two propositions on the ballot regarding transportation funding, Proposition 109 and Proposition 110. I am now going to read to you the ballot language of Proposition 109. After hearing it, please tell me if you intend to vote YES and approve the proposition, or if you intend to vote NO and reject it. The ballot language reads as:

SHALL STATE DEBT BE INCREASED THREE POINT FIVE BILLION DOLLARS [$3.5 BILLION], WITH A MAXIMUM REPAYMENT COST OF FIVE POINT TWO BILLION DOLLARS [5.2 BILLION], WITHOUT RAISING TAXES OR FEES,

BY A CHANGE TO THE COLORADO REVISED STATUTES REQUIRING THE ISSUANCE OF TRANSPORTATION REVENUE ANTICIPATION NOTES,

AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, NOTE PROCEEDS SHALL BE RETAINED AS A VOTER-APPROVED REVENUE CHANGE

AND USED EXCLUSIVELY TO FUND SPECIFIED ROAD AND BRIDGE EXPANSION, CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE, AND REPAIR PROJECTS THROUGHOUT THE STATE?

If the election were being held today, would you vote YES and approve 109, or would you vote NO and reject it?

Survey Methodology

This survey was conducted by live dialing landline and cell phone sample. The sample used for this survey was randomly drawn from a state of Colorado voter file. The survey response data was weighted based upon past general election voting demographics. The interviews were conducted on October 8th – 10th, 2018. Three attempts were made to interview each household in the sample. This survey has a margin of error of +/- 4.38% at the 95 percent confidence interval.

I am now going to read to you the names of people involved in politics. After hearing each name, I would like you to tell me if you have a very favorable, somewhat favorable, somewhat unfavorable or very unfavorable opinion of that person. If you have never of the person there is an option for that as well. Let's get started. The first name is...

 T12. There are two propositions on the ballot regarding transportation funding, Proposition 109 and Proposition 110. I am now going to read to you the ballot language of Proposition 109. After hearing it, please tell me if you intend to vote YES and approve the proposition, or if you intend to vote NO and reject it. The ballot language reads as:

SHALL STATE DEBT BE INCREASED THREE POINT FIVE BILLION DOLLARS [$3.5 BILLION], WITH A MAXIMUM REPAYMENT COST OF FIVE POINT TWO BILLION DOLLARS [5.2 BILLION], WITHOUT RAISING TAXES OR FEES, BY A CHANGE TO THE COLORADO REVISED STATUTES REQUIRING THE ISSUANCE OF TRANSPORTATION REVENUE ANTICIPATION NOTES, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, NOTE PROCEEDS SHALL BE RETAINED AS A VOTER-APPROVED REVENUE CHANGE AND USED EXCLUSIVELY TO FUND SPECIFIED ROAD AND BRIDGE EXPANSION, CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE, AND REPAIR PROJECTS THROUGHOUT THE STATE?

If the election were being held today, would you vote YES and approve Proposition 109, or would you vote NO and reject it?

 T12. There are two propositions on the ballot regarding transportation funding, Proposition 109 and Proposition 110. I am now going to read to you the ballot language of Proposition 109. After hearing it, please tell me if you intend to vote YES and approve the proposition, or if you intend to vote NO and reject it. The ballot language reads as:

SHALL STATE DEBT BE INCREASED THREE POINT FIVE BILLION DOLLARS [$3.5 BILLION], WITH A MAXIMUM REPAYMENT COST OF FIVE POINT TWO BILLION DOLLARS [5.2 BILLION], WITHOUT RAISING TAXES OR FEES, BY A CHANGE TO THE COLORADO REVISED STATUTES REQUIRING THE ISSUANCE OF TRANSPORTATION REVENUE ANTICIPATION NOTES, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, NOTE PROCEEDS SHALL BE RETAINED AS A VOTER-APPROVED REVENUE CHANGE AND USED EXCLUSIVELY TO FUND SPECIFIED ROAD AND BRIDGE EXPANSION, CONSTRUCTION, MAINTENANCE, AND REPAIR PROJECTS THROUGHOUT THE STATE?

If the election were being held today, would you vote YES and approve Proposition 109, or would you vote NO and reject it?

After hearing it, please tell me if you intend to vote YES and approve the proposition, or if you intend to vote NO and reject it. The ballot language is rather long, so please be patient and listen carefully. It reads as:

SHALL STATE TAXES BE INCREASED SEVEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIX MILLION DOLLARS [$766 MILLION] ANNUALLY FOR A TWENTY-YEAR PERIOD, AND STATE DEBT SHALL BE INCREASED SIX BILLION DOLLARS [$6 BILLION] WITH A MAXIMUM REPAYMENT COST OF NINE POINT FOUR BILLION DOLLARS [$9.4 BILLION], TO PAY FOR STATE AND LOCAL TRANSPORTATION PROJECTS, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, CHANGING THE COLORADO REVISED STATUTES TO: "ONE", INCREASE THE STATE SALES AND USE TAX RATE BY ZERO POINT SIX TWO PERCENT [0.62%] BEGINNING JANUARY 1, 2019

If the election were being held today, would you vote YES and approve Proposition 110, or would you vote NO and reject it?
