						45% state funding from taxes, 10% from federal government, 45% from local property taxes. Local property taxes cause inequity because schools located in an affluent neighborhood with big and expensive houses get more funding than schools in impoverished neighborhoods primarily populated by BIPOC citizens. In Colorado we have ineffective TABOR law which should be amended because it puts a cap on tax collection and use and requires excess funds to be refunded to tax payers when it could be used for education.
